

Quants@VU in cooperation with TopQuants
and EY organize on OCTOBER 24, 2014

Quant Careers minisymposium

We welcome all quant finance professionals, students in quant finance, finance, math and econometrics, as well as young graduates in these areas to attend this inaugural event!

The invited speakers are:

Jerry de Leeuw, CEO at Entrima, the European Institute for Energy Trading & Risk Management, the founder of Mercurious (training and consultancy), former option trader at AEX and the author of the book “Milkshakes and Butterflies”.

Lisa Lipkin, the founder of Story Strategies, who will tell us about how to tell a persuasive story about yourself, in a job interview or another context.

Furthermore, the first Quantitative Thesis Award of 2500 EUR will be awarded during this event! The three finalists will pitch their quant thesis and winner will be decided.

The day will conclude with drinks, food and plenty of opportunities for informal networking.

To be considered for the Quant Thesis award, students and supervisors are invited to submit high-quality quant thesis before or on October the 1st.

Summary:

For whom: professionals in the area of Quant Finance and Risk Management, as well as students and recent graduates in Quant Finance, Econometrics, Applied Math or Finance.

Where: EY headquarters, Antonio Vivaldistraat 150, Amsterdam.

Costs: Free.

Sign-up: <http://quantcareers2014.eventbrite.com>

Date and Time: October 24, 2014, 14:30-20:00.

Questions / enquiries by mailing: s.a.borovkova@vu.nl

